Cultural Suggestions for Cascades

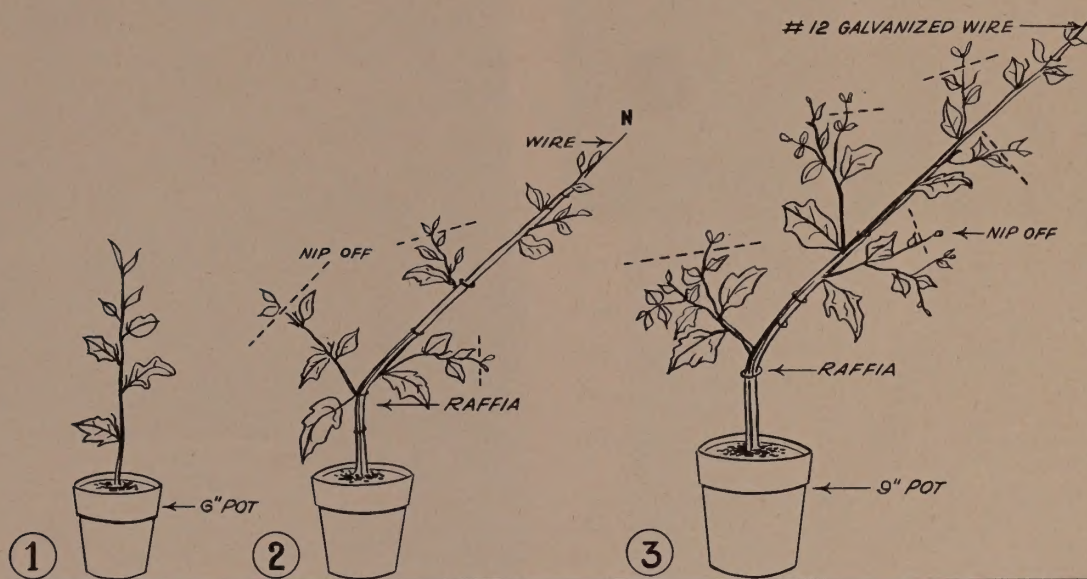

POTTING MIXTURE. Mix the following thoroughly: 2 parts fibrous loam, 1 part leaf mold, 1 part barnyard manure, 1 part peat moss, 1 part sand, 5 lbs. superphosphate to a cubic yard of soil.

RE-POTTING. When purchased, the plants may be potted in a 6-inch pot. 2 to 3 additional repottings to larger size containers are made at intervals of 4 to 5 weeks apart. Final re-potting is done around August 10 and the size of the container is determined by the amount of growth attained at that time.

TYING AND PINCHING. When the plant is about 12 inches tall, a fairly long 12 gauge leading wire is inserted next to its trunk. (Fig. 2) The wire is then bent at an angle of 45 degrees at the point 6 inches above the soil surface. This position is maintained throughout the growing season. Next, the plant is also bent similarly and tied to the leading wire periodically as the plant grows.

IMPORTANT. All laterals and sub-laterals are stopped at every third or fourth leaf joints until the end of September. When buds begin to show color, the pot is placed on a higher position with the tip of its main leader bent downward together with the original leading wire as in figure 5.

FERTILIZING. A light application of liquid fertilizer is given at 2-week intervals during its entire growing season until buds begin to show color.

Cultural Suggestions

DISBUD EXHIBITION AND SPIDER TYPES

SOIL PREPARATION. Chrysanthemum do best in a rich deeply cultivated soil. Incorporation of humus materials such as barnyard manure, decayed compost, peat moss, leaf mold, etc., is beneficial. In addition, superphosphate at the rate of 3 lbs. per 100 square feet is broadcasted and spaded to a depth of 12 to 15 inches earl in spring.

EXPOSURE. The area to be planted should have good sun exposure and air circulation.

TREATMENT OF PURCHASED PLANTS. First observe the condition of the plants when received. Those showing sign of wilting or excessive dryness at the roots maybe refreshed by placing the root section in a shallow pan of cool water for few hours before being set out. About 15 inches apart in all directions is a normal area of space allocation. When planted, the soil around the base is firmed and watered thoroughly. Shading from direct sunlight during first few days is helpful.

STOPPING. When the young plant has become firmly established—normally within a period of two weeks from planting date—pinch out the top. This simple operation is known as “stopping” and will bring about the formation of three or more new shoots, the subsequent handling of which must be governed by whatever plan you may have for their future disposition. In order to dwarf your plants, make them bush out, and to increase their yield of blooms it may be necessary to “stop” them a number of times, the proper number to be determined by the particular variety of plant in need of such attention and the specific result desired.

RESTRICTION OF LATERAL GROWTH. A plant, when allowed to retain no more than one, two or three stems, will develop much larger blooms than it will if permitted to grow without restriction. This is especially true of the large flowering types—exhibitions, commercials, spidery sorts and some of the larger anemones.

DISBUDDING. All lateral branches appearing at leaf axils are removed at regular intervals of about 10 days apart. Many exhibition varieties will produce, “first crown buds” or “leaf buds”, as commonly known in July which are usually removed and the next central buds retained.

FERTILIZING. About 3 applications of complete commercial fertilizer, such as “Vigoro”, etc., at the rate of 3 lbs. per 100 square feet would be sufficient. No feeding is done after buds begin to show color.

CONTROL MEASURES FOR INSECTS AND DISEASES

INSECTS:

1. Leaf tyer. A brown moth emerges at night and lays white eggs which hatch into white caterpillars, but later change into a green color. Control: DDT.
2. Aphids, leaf miner, and red spider. Controlled with sprays such as “Parathion,” etc.
3. Thrips. Control: DDT.
4. Mealy bugs. Control: White oil emulsion sprays.
5. Tarnished plant bug. A yellowish brown bug with long probosci used to puncture young shoots. Control: Handpicking or DDT.
6. Grasshoppers. Control: Dusting with arsenical compounds.
7. Cutworms. Control: DDT.
8. Slugs, snails, sowbugs and milipeds. Control: Baits.

DISEASES:

1. Rust. Indicated by blisters and exposes dark brown powder—a mass of spores. Infested leaves should be removed and burned. Control: Fermate.
2. Mildew. It has white powdery appearance. Control: Sulphur dust or sprays.

STAKING. Individual stem should be supported with stake or other means to hold the blooms upright.

CULTURAL SUGGESTIONS

BUSH OR GARDEN VARIETIES. Under this heading comes small pompons, small anemones, singles and Hardy Garden varieties. These varieties are most effective in the garden when grown low with as much growth as possible. This effect is easily obtained by pinching off centers of all laterals three or four times up to 1st or 10th of August. This method will prevent plants from toppling too freely.

MAGIC MUMS* (TREE SHAPE)

*Sunnyslope Gardens Trademark

(Pot culture)

Varieties bred with sturdy nodule structure to form a tree shape. Soil mixture, feeding, and general care are very similar to that of "Cascade" culture found elsewhere in this catalog.

When container grown, at the shifting time from 6-inch pot to an 8-inch size, all lower branches to the height of 5-6 inches are pruned off exposing its trunk as shown in the illustration.

Container plants are grown in open area with full sun ex-posure to stimulate its compact growth. The pots are turned around at intervals to allow even light exposures to all sides.

The tiny tip of each branch is nipped off at every 4th or 5th leaf axil simultaneously with its growth. Since each leaf joint has one branch forming potential, second pinching will allow 16 number of branches; third, to 64 branches; 4th pinching to 256 branches, etc. IT IS ACTUALLY VERY SIMPLE.

Sunnyslope's September Blooming Mums

Considerable research has been conducted by universities and agricultural stations in Japan to breed early flowering large mums that will bloom anywhere before the approach of frost. We are introducing few of these each year after completing the tests at our Gardens. These varieties have bloomed with us by Sept. 15.

CITATION (No. 866). Beautiful soft pink when weather is cool; otherwise, a purest white. Perfectly globular shape at maturity.

INCA (No. 874). Most unusual formation. The flower composed of short tubular petals shaping into a globular form at its full maturity. Color is a pleasing clear yellow. Short growing habit and is ideal for container grown material.

ALASKA (No. 889) (S.G. 1960). Largest white in the early flowering class.

FAIR LADY (No. 897) (S.G. 1960). Beautiful rosy purple. Best, treated as either bush or disbudded pompons because of being a producer of small size flowers in abundance.

PRICE: 50 cents each; 3 for $1.35; 6 for $2.50

Green Thumb Idea for Northern Gardens

An idea particularly for those residents of northern climate who are rather reluctant of growing late flowering Exhibition disbud Mums for fear they may freeze before the buds open. Chrysanthemum plants can be dug and placed into half-bushel fruit baskets before an approach of killing frost in October and protected during intermittent cold spells. They can be transplanted anytime; during growth, in buds, and in flower. Certain amount of roots are bound to be injured even when considerable amount of soil is left when dug, the plants should be kept in a shade and well watered for a few days after transplanted.

In our locale, these used baskets can be obtained from any grocery chains at low nominal cost. It is convenient to carry because of wire handles attached to the sides. These baskets generally lasting through normal chrysanthemum season. As a matter of fact, we grow all chrysanthemums for our exhibition by direct planting of cuttings in these baskets during the month of June. Prior to their full maturity, they are brought to the display area by the hundreds.

LARGE FLOWERING SINGLE OR "IMPERIAL CREST" CHRYSANTHEMUM

POTOMAC (No. 887). A competitive flower for the members of the Society. The color is a luminous rosy purple with lighter color reverse. Decidedly single in formation composed of broad petals depressed at the center into boat shape manner. Ideal for pot culture probably grown in an 8-inch bearing ½ dozen flowers. Short. Oct. 25.

Price: 50 cents each; 3 for $1.35; 6 for $2.50

CARNATION CULTURE

Carnations bloom throughout the year—more profusely during warmer months. They like full sunlight and will tolerate a wide range of soil conditions and acidity but they must have good drainage. As for pre-planting soil preparation, a liberal amount of peat moss is spaded into the soil. Also, bonemeal at a rate of 5 pounds to an area of 100 square feet is incorporated and mixed well with peat moss.

Young carnation plants are spaced about 12 inches apart when set out and they should be watered thoroughly after planting. Very wet or very dry conditions are both detrimental although in winter they will stand being kept fairly dry.

Plants are first pinched when they are about five inches tall. This is done to encourage plants to become bushy around the base and the new growths are further pinched occasionally until a bushy plant is formed.

Almost simultaneously with the last topping, they should be provided with some sort of support. When buds become sufficiently large, all side buds are removed thus leaving one bud to a stem.

After the final pinching, feeding becomes a year round procedure since Carnations are everblooming. A small amount of all-purpose fertilizer is recommended for each plant about once a month.

They should be kept free from aphids, thrips, and red mites.
